

Please don't give in to the idea that the government has a responsibility to protect yesterday's business model from tomorrow's technology.